FROM EUROPE.
VIA PHILADELPHIA.

The following Articles are translated from HAMBURG Papers, received by the AMERICA, Captain EWING, arrived at PHILADELPHIA.

LETTER FROM STOCKHOLM, APRIL 8.

Information is just received here that the Empress of Russia has marched an army to the borders of Findland and ordered her fleet to be fitted out; the King of Sweden is unacquainted with the design of the Empress in taking this measure, but has given immediate orders for his army in Findland and Sweden immediately to prepare for war. He has also ordered to be fitted out his large and small fleets. The Russian army is supposed to be 60,000 men strong.

ANOTHER LETTER OF THE SAME DATE.

The courier, which our ambassador Baron Van Stestingkt, has forwarded from Petersburg, giving information of the preparations which are there making for war, was sent from Petersburg on the 29th of March. The orders which he gives to the commander in chief of Findland are, that the whole of the army of that province shall repair to its borders in order to defend it against any attack which may be made upon it.

STOCKHOLM, APRIL 12.

Every exertion is making here to get ready our fleet, and the same exertions are going on at Calscrone. The greatest activity is also used to prepare our armies for defence: a part indeed are marched into Findland. All seem desirous to defend their king, their country, their liberty and independence.

COPENHAGEN, APRIL 16.

Yesterday a proclamation was issued to do away the embargo of the 4th of November, to prevent the exportation of wheat, wheat meal, and wheaten bread from the dominions of the king of Denmark. The exportation of other corn remains forbidden as before.

WORMS, APRIL 12.

In the night of Sunday arrived here a number of regiments of Imperial Netherland troops, which notify us of the near approach of a renewal of the war. Since that time all seems to be in movement. The regiments of Clairfayt, Wurtemberg, Beaulieu, and Murray, are sent on the other side of the Rhine. These and some other regiments of cavalry appointed for the army of the lower Rhine, under the command of Prince Wurtenberg. The increase of the army on the Lower Rhine is very necessary, since the French are in great strength there.

HANOVER, APRIL 20.

The Duke of Brunswick is gone to Magdeburg, where he meets the state minister of the king of Prussia, the Duke of Haugwitz. The Duke takes the command of 60,000 men to defend the Prussian line of neutrality.

FRANKFORT, APRIL 16.

The day before yesterday field marshall Wurmser arrived at Mentz from Manheim, where he had an audience of prince Charles, and yesterday a council of war was held, in order to settle the military operations of the ensuing campaign. It is expected the campaign will soon open. The field marshall is returned to Manheim. The operations of the imperial armies on the Upper and Lower Rhine will combine together in their operations.

The imperial army on the Lower Rhine has been encreased by 30,000 men.

COLOGNE, APRIL 16.

It is believed that the French will have their head quarters at Trier, and that the divisons of General Lefevre are arrived there.

CONSTANTINOPLE, MARCH 10.

It is here at present the time of fasting, and all is consequently still. Nothing is heard of the troops drawn together at Adrianople. It is only known that the Pacha of Belgrade has given orders to go there with 2000 Janizaries.

It is said that there has been an engagement between the Russians and Persions near Caucasus, in which the Persians were terribly beaten. This account, however, is not confirmed.

FROM FRANCE.
VIA NEW-YORK.

We have a regular series of that excellent Paris paper, the National Gazette or Moniteur, from the 20th February, to April 8. It is filled principally with debates and proceedings of the legislative body, from which some interesting particulars may be selected for American papers. It is also the most authentic channel of intelligence. Minerva.

The legislative body is occupied principally with the restoration of finances, and in correcting the evils necessarily introduced into the transactions between individuals, by the depreciation of assignats.

In the paper of the 8th. the latest date received, Rosseau, as the organ of a committee on the payment of private engagements, reported in favor of repealing the laws of 25 Messidor and 12 Frimaire last, which had suspended the reimbursement of private debts, on account of the low value of assignats; and proposing to pass a law, declaring that all contracts made prior to January 1, 1792, and all obligations for specie or ingots, of a later date, should be discharged in mandates.

When these suspensions of payment took place, assignats were worth only 3½ per cent, Some provision for creditors seemed necessary at that time. But as the mandats are issued on good security, and as the reporter expresses it, realizable at pleasure, it is maintained that all kinds of creditors ought to receive their debts in them at par. Debts contracted since 1792, whose real value is not fixed by the contract, he proposed to pay according to a scale of depreciation.

This report occasioned a lengthy and important debate, which was not closed at the date of the last paper.

Economy is an object of great attention with the present legislators of France. Ramel, minister of finances, has ordered all the agents of the republic, Representatives, who are furnished with carriages and harness from from the public magazines, to deliver them at the depot of the late church of Magdalena. By order of the Executive Directory, the carriages of the general direction are to be sold—the office suppressed—and no carriages for officers or agents are to be furnished at the public expence, except to ministers.

The Council of Five Hundred after a long discussion, adopted the resolution of Audouin, relative to the fathers and mothers of emigrants.

An English and French squadron are in the Archipelago. The Turkish government has given strict orders that no hostilities be committed under the cannon of their forts.

The plague has made terrible ravages in Turkey, the winter past, as also in the lower Hungary. The Grand Seignior, in spite of the clamors of the priests, who are the followers of the Koran in the doctrine of fatalism, has established Lazarettos, and ordered quarantine.

On the fourth of April were burnt 12 million of assignats, proceeding from the sale of national domains; and 115 millions, the produce of the forced loan. Total sum now burnt, 2618 millions.

The Council of Five Hundred, after a lengthy debate and violent opposition, have decided on the expediency of forming a National Lottery.

Accounts from Vienna of March 14 ascribe the delay of the Archduke's departure for the army, to great falls of snow.

MISCELLANY.

FROM THE FARMER'S WEEKLY MUSEUM.

"Remove sorrow far from thee: For sorrow hath killed many, and there is no profit therein."

Dry up your eyes, ye morners, for grief will not restore the friends you have lost' nor abate the edge of misfortune, but as oil and the wheatstone to the razor, it will sharpen that which is already too acute, and the bleeding heart will shew a still deeper wound. Why will you strive to add one drop to this "vale of tears." which, trust me, is already too full, why court the acquaintance of grief, that sorry company, who, sobbing and silent as he journeys with you, though the wilderness of this world, multiplies every brake, and adds tenfold horror to the gloom. You have various and real ills to encounter in your sore travail; the climate is vaporous, and you must be sick; men are treacherous, and you will be deceived, poverty will sometimes start up 'like an armed man' before you, and your carefull days be like those of a hireling. But be of good cheer, and repine not in the day of adversity with crying Solomon, that laughter is mad, nor impertinently inquire of mirth what doeth she, but believe with my predecessor Steme, that comfortable assertion, worth a million of cold homilies, that every time we smile, and still more every time we laugh, it adds something to the fragment of life.

No profit therein; No verily; the man of sorrow, who with sullen Ahab refuses to eat bread, and changes his time for tears, is engaged in one of the most barren and least lucrative employments, you can conceive. Sighs I have always considered as the very canker of the heart, and sobs the grand epitomizers of existence. Child of melancholy! If sorrow hath killed many and there is no profit therein, banish it from thy shades, for why, in the pathetic language of Ecclesiastes, shouldst thou die before thy time?

But who are those fair forms, the one with folded arms, and the other with bounding step ministering, O kindly handmaids at the bed side of the Philosopher. I see his pallid cheek flush, I hear his voice utter a bloody tone, wrinkles are no more seen on his brow, and not a solitary tear traces a lonely way down his cheek for Patience and Mirth are before him. At their solitary approach, the troops of cares, the family of pain fly disconsolate, and free the vacant heart, from their torturing sway. Gentle and benignant spirits, meekest Patience and chirping Mirth, whether my cottage is unroofed by the storm, or my couch thorned by disease, whether friends grow lukewarm, or lovers put far away, let your gay forms appear and the load of life will no more be irksome. For well I know your pleasing arts, I well remember your numerous topics and consolation your carelessness, Mirth, and, Patience, your philosophy and resignation. Sorrow, as the wise son of Sirach tells us, may kill many, but ye can make alive: Come then to the unfortunate, and let the adverse hour be your favorite hour of visitation.

Three citizens walking in the fields, one said, we shall have a great year for black berries; for, said he, the last week I plucked a handful of the fairest red black berries that ever I saw. A second Person laughed at him, saying, red black berries is a bull. But the third person, with much gravity, justified what the former had said, and very sagely asked, are not black berreis always red when they are green?

BOSTON, MAY 25.

IMPORTANT!

The Philadelphia Ravens, who are continually croaking disaster and evil assert, that in consequence of a communication from Mr. Bond, to Mr. Pickering, respecting an ambiguous article in the Indian Treaty, the British had refused to make preparations for delivering up the Posts, according to the treaty which provides, that they shall be delivered up the first of next month. We were acquainted some days since, with the negociation between the Secretary of State and the British Resident, and can assure our readers, that it is merely explanatory of the 8th article of the Indian treaty and 3d of the British; and that measures have been taken not only by the Executive of the United States, but the Governor General of Canada, that the Posts shall be surrendered immediately on the arrival of American troops to take possession of them. For this purpose an Aid-de-Camp to Lord Dorchester has been in Philadelphia several weeks, and on Thursday last, Major Lewis, Aid-de-Camp to Major General Wayne, passed through Albany on his way to Quebec, with dispatches from the President to Lord Dorchester, with the arrangements for taking the posts into possession. If the American troops are not ready to take possession on the first of June, the delay must be imputed to the uncertainty into which the proceedings of the House of Representatives, before the appropriations were made, naturally involved the business.

☞ We are now in possession of a copy of the Explanatory Article, agreed upon between Mr. Pickering and Mr. Bond; and can pledge ourselves for the authenticity of our information.

SALEM, MAY 31.

Extract of a letter from Martinico.

"Since M. de Foulquier has been intendant in this Island, two vessels of the king have been sent to Otaheite to search for plants, and other curious productions of that country, and among other things, they have brought sugar canes, which produce double of our ordinary canes, so that the Colony, after all the injuries it has sustained, yields the same quantity of sugar, as in the time of its greatest cultivation. The sight of the canes will plead more strongly, than any words I can use. You will receive of both kinds to judge how much the Colony has gained in three years. In too more, if we are not interrupted, the island must be in a most flourishing situation."

NEW-YORK, JUNE 4.

A Bermudian privateer is now cruising off, which boards every vessel whether inward or outward bound.

This day arrived the ship Samson, John E. Sword, commander from Canton, which place she left on the 12th of January last, in company with the ships—

John Jay, Olney, of Providence.
Eliza, Gibant,
India Packet, Harris,
Dispatch, Caswell, and
Sloop Union, Boyd,
} of Boston.

On the 22d of May Capt. Sword spoke the schooner Sally, Capt. Thomas, out 19 days from North Carolina, bound to Antigua.

PHILADELPHIA, JUNE 7.

A Portuguese Indiaman, having on board a very valuable cargo, bound from Brazil to Goa, and mounting 22 guns, in the Indian ocean fell in with the French frigate Cybele, mounting 44 guns, and carrying 470 men, when a most desperate and bloody action efied, which lasted three hours and an half. The Portuguese ship was obliged to strike her colours, after having a vast number of her men killed on board. The Frenchman took possession, and after plundering the ship of every thing valuable on board, dismissed her; exacting, however, from the captain, an oath not to take arms against the French republic again during the continuation of the present war.

JUNE 8.

Yesterday arrived the brig Sophia, Capt. Crandon, in the service of the United States, 40 days from Lisbon. In the Sophia came passenger, captain RICHARD O'BRIEN, who was 12 years in captivity at Algiers.

A letter from Port-au-Prince, of the 23d April says, "There has been a new plot at Mirebalais. Toussaint Louverture, General of the Brigand negroes, assured of the disaffection of the people of colour, attacked Mirebalais, and carried the out posts: but Monsr. le Vicomte de Bruges attacked him and defeated him with great slaughter; took his camp, and made a great deal of booty, amounting, upon division, to more than twenty-five half joes a man.

BOSTON, JUNE 1.

IMPORTANT AND AUTHENTIC!

Extract of a Letter from a Gentleman of the greatest respectability and information at Paris, to his friend in this town, dated March 30, 1796.

"The Americans are leaving this country, with their rice, tobacco, flour, &c. those who have sold, are now mourning after their money, which at present is wholly lost, and when there will be an inclination to make restitution is very uncertain, for the French have a very serious dislike to our late proceedings with Great Britain, and do not scruple to say very bad things of their sister Republic."

(Chronicle.)

NEW-YORK, JUNE 8.

A confirmation of the expected continuance of hostilities in Europe may be found in the articles of foreign intelligence we have this day given.

Mr. Pitt on the 18th of April in his proposition of new taxes for further supplies, states the ineffectual result of the negotiation of Mr. Wickham, and speaks strongly of the necessity of a continuance of the war. He attributes the obstinacy of the French government, to the suggestions of the disaffected English, respecting the impaired resources of England; and relies on the nation to contradict the conclusions they would wish to draw therefrom.

Paris accounts of April 13, speak of very tumultuous meetings of the populace in the Thuilleries, who, it is said, are acted on by different parties—breathing discontents with the government, and insulting the deputies who do not vote as they like, as they leave the hall. The Editors Perlet and of L'Eclair say however, that the body of the citizens of Paris are well disposed to the government.

General Moreau was to leave Paris on the 16th of April, to take the command of the army of the Rhine, in place of general Pichegru.

General Pichegru had not definitively accepted of the embassy to Sweden; but was about retiring to taste of some repose with his family at Arbois. In the mean time, the government intended sending a Charge d'Affaires who was to set out in a few days.

VICTOR HUGUES.

We understand from capt Squire, of the brig Julius Cesar, in 15 days from Mountserat, that Victor Hugues had dispatched a fleet of three frigates and 62 schooners from Guadaloupe: their destination unknown—but it was conjectured Martinique was their object.

Alexandria, June 14.

The New-York papers, by the mail of last night, contain European accounts to the 23d of April. Under the London head of the 19th are the following paragraphs:—

It appears by the Vienna Gazette, that the Empress of Russia, having had sufficient proofs that the Turks, instigated by the French, had made every possible preparation for attacking her dominions, had resolved to anticipate them; and for that purpose, after publishing a manifesto, declaratory of her motive, gave orders to three different armies of 50,000 men each, to march against some of the fortresses of the frontiers of Turkey. It is said that the fortress of Choczim, has actually surrendered to the Russian arms; and that General Romanzow has already advanced to the banks of the Dneister.

The Eclair of the 13th instant states, that a part of the army of the north under the command of Bournonville, has entered the electorate of Hanover. The editor expresses a hope, that this infraction of the neutrality may not afford a pretext to the king of Prussia to put in execution the plans which he seemed to have formed upon Holland.

It is mentioned in two of the Paris papers, that the division of the army under Gen. Bournonville, has entered the electorate of Hanover.

The campaign has not yet commenced upon the Rhine, and some of the Paris papers still insist, that a second armistice is to take place, and that the armies have already began to withdraw to a considerable distance from each other.

The accounts from Hamburgh, by the America, in this days MIRROR; make a war between Russia and Sweden very probable. At the time the America left Hamburg, which was the latter end of April, hostilities had not commenced between the French and Austrians; and it may be understood, that these powers were still occupied in pacific negociations.

Philadelphia, June 10.

CAUTION

To the Merchants, and other Citizens of the United States.

THE advices received by captain O'Brian from colonel Humphreys at Lisbon, shewing that the temporary obstacles to a fulfilment of the stipulations on the part of the United States with the Dey and Regency of Algiers are not yet removed. The treaty itself being put in jeopardy, by these unexpected delays, the safety of the American vessels entering the Mediterranean has become extremely precarious. It should also be remembered, that no treaty has ever yet been made between the United States and the governments of Tunis and Tripoli. Merchants and other citizens of the United States will hence see the hazard to which they will expose their property and the liberty of their fellow citizens, by engageing, in the present state of things, in commerce within the Straits of Gibraltar.

TIMOTHY PICKERING,
Secretary of State.

Department of State,
June 8th, 1796.

IT is much to be regretted that our prospects of a free trade up the Mediterranean are still clouded; and humanity will yet more deplore the continuance of our fellow citizens at Algiers in slavery. The singular events which have retarded the completion of the terms of the treaty with the Dey, by putting the treaty itself at hazard, must render it extremely imprudent to risk the citizens of the United States or their property within the Straits. Should the present treaty ultimately fail, additional prizes and captives would increase the difficulty of renewing it, and the latter may pine in hopeless slavery. In this state of things then, it is hoped that our citizens will make no adventures within the Strait's mouth.

DAVID HOWELL, of Rhode Island, is nominated Commissioner to settle the eastern boundaries of the United States, in the room of HENRY KNOX, resigned.

Extract of a letter from a gentleman in Camandarqua, dated May 18.

"The British are making every preparation to leave Niagara, and have already dismounted their cannon, and removed some of their military stores on their own side of the river, into a new magazine which they have built."

Extract of a letter from Savannah, dated May 7.

"Party spirit runs very high in this place, and the whole state is in confusion—nothing but duelling is going forward—the consequences are serious. General Jackson is the champion of the day and has a large party, but the opposition are exerting themselves to throw him down, and it is possible will succeed. Jackson never either rides or walks out, but with a pair of pistols—one day last week a number of gentlemen were under the vendue house, among others was Mr. Watkins, the man who had a fray with Jackson at Louisville. Jackson then passing, stepped up to Watkins and gave him several blows with his cane—unluckily for him Watkins arrested it from him, and beat him very severely—by this time a man was seen handing a pair of pistols in the fray, but happily no lives were lost or any other damage done except the breaking a few canes."

The whale lately carried into Nantucket, made 35 barrels of head, and 50 of body oil, and sold for 2689 dollars.

Extract of a letter from Hamburgh, to a merchant in Philadelphia, dated April 22, 1796.

"The situation of Europe is at this moment exceeding critical. A war is at this moment on the eve of breaking out between the empress of Russia and the Swedes; and vast preparations are making by both powers. 60,000 Russians are on the borders of Sweden; and all the troops of the latter power are in motion. The king of Prussia is said to have an army of 40,000 men ready to join the petty principalities, then march into Holland, and once more restore the Stadtholder, in consequence as he alledges of the French having violated their Treaty.

"On the other hand, in consequence of this Republic having refused to acknowledge the French Minister, they have laid an embargo on all ships of this flag in their ports; in consequence of this, numbers of ships that were ready to proceed to the different southern ports are detained. England and France seem to maintain the war with unabated activity; so that in short, from present appearances, it is reasonable to conjecture the summer will find all Europe in a blaze."

☞ The disagreeable weather having prevented the members composing the Alexandria Troop of Independent Light Dragoons from attending parade on Saturday last, they are hereby requested to attend at the Court-House square on Thursday next the 16th inst. at 3 o'clock. Each member is requested to be punctual in his attendance.

OLD OLIVER; OR, THE DYING SHEPHERD.

BY PETER PINDAR, ESQ.

RECITATIVE:

The Shepherd Oliver, grown white with years, (snows,
Like some old oak, weigh'd down by winter
Now drew the village sighs, and village tears;
His eyelids sinking to their last repose.

Yet, ere expir'd life's trembling flame, and pale,
Thus to the bleating bands around his door,
That seem'd to mourn his absence from the vale, (more!
The feeble shepherd spoke, and spoke no

AIR.

O, my flock! whose kind voices I hear,
Adieu! ah, for ever adieu!
No more on your hills I appear,
And together our pleasure pursue:

No more at the peep of the day,
From valley to valley we rove,
'Mid the streamlets, and verdure of May,
'Mid the zephyrs, and shade of the grove.

No more to my voice shall ye run,
And, bleating, your shepherd surround;
And while I repose in the sun,
Like a guard, watch my sleep on the ground.

When winter, with tempest and cold,
Dims the eye of pale nature with woe,
I lead you no more to the fold,
With your fleeces all cover'd with snow.

O, mourn not at Oliver's death!
Unwept my last sand let it fall;
Ye too must resign your sweet breath,
For who his past years can recall.

O, take all your shepherd can give!
Receive my last thanks, and last sigh;
Whose simplicity taught me to live,
And whose innocence teaches to die!

POTOMACK.

MILL, MILL-SEATS and LANDS,
FOR SALE.

A valuable Merchant-Mill and SawMill, a never failing stream of water; with a Miller's House, Cooper's House, and Cooper's Shop, with or without about Eleven Hundred Acres of Valuable Land, situate, part in Loudoun and part in Fairfax County. The land is of good quality and uncommonly well watered, having three streams running through it, any of which are sufficient to turn two water wheels: and has three seats for the erecting of Mills, one of them in particular will not repuire a dam of much more than 50 feet, and the Mill can be placed immediately upon the road from Leesburg to Alexandria. The improvements are, a good dwelling-House, and three other good Farm Houses.—One half of the land is yet in remarkably fine timber, which will make the Saw-Mill extremely valuable; and that which is cleared is under good fence. The Mill is distant from the Great Falls of Potomack, where extensive improvements are making, about three miles; from the Little Falls, where a bridge is now erecting across the Potomack River, about 8 miles; and from thence to the Federal City about 3 miles; and from Alexandria about 16 miles.——The whole will be sold together, or any part thereof will be sold separate, so as to suit purchasers. Immediate possession can be had; and a liberal credit will be given for the purchase money.

Also, a valuable Tract of Land, containing 300 acres of prime Bottom, situate on Patterson's Creek, in Hampshire County, one mile and an half below Frankfort, and two and an half miles from Potomack River, where it is navigable for vessels of upwards of 100 barrels flour. The quality of the Land, I am informed, is nearly equal to that on the south branch of the Potomack, and it has the advantage of a Grist-Mill within half a mile, and Limestone and Pit-Coal at a short distance.

Also, several Tracts of Land, of about 400 acres each, in Hampshire County, the quality of which I am unacquainted with.
